THIRD ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED:

BERLIN, August 11.

On the occasion of the third anniversary of the promulgation of the Republican constitution, government buildings and many private houses were beflagged. The President issued a marifesto saying that heavy storms. had swept over the young republic. Unity, right and liberty had been threatened but their firm hope in the salvation of Germany and the world would not be abandoned. The President, members of the Cablact. officials and military- efficers assembled and desprated the Reichstag. They cheered for the Republic, the Fatherland and the Nation and listened to a patriotic gince the war have solved the problem. speech by the Premier warmly appealing for social cooperation in the work of reconstruction and urging pursuit of the path of justice in foreign policy. It was noteworthy that Bavarian state buildings were not flagged.

THE SERIOUS MODERN BOY.

Speaking at the Apposition Dinner of St. Paul's School, the Bishop of London said he was familiar with the chief public schools, and he held that the modern boy was a much more serious type than any he had encountered in the past. He did not know whether to attribute this to his war experience, to his possible loss in war of elder brothers or relatives, or to a better realisation of the serious issues of the day, but the fact was beyond question. He did not mean that the modern boy was any less atheltio, less keen on sports or less manly, but he did have a finer sense therefore, that the public schools were living up to their great aim and object of turning out the highest type of boy, who would be of the utmost value to the community.

Sir Gregory Lester, the Provost of University College, bore testimony to August 18.—Union Insurance the accuracy of the bishop's observations, stating that he had and graduates this same serious

Dr. Hillard, the High Master of St. Paul's School, laid stress on the high type which was being turned out by the school, and said that no difficulty was encountered by the boys making their way in after-life. City firms complained that, although they were anxious to have them, he did not send them the boys they wanted THE NEW VICTORIA CAFE for their business, the reason being that the supply was insufficient to meet the demand.

Leadin: educationalists who were present also endorsed the bishop's views, and said the influences to which he had alluded were noticeably evident, even ju such establishments s Sandhurst.

In any case it fails, and the compony is regularly defrauded all the same. On Tuesday I noticed an incident that may be significant. An inspector who knows me well by sight boarded the car. I produced my ticket, and was rather surprised to see him open it and make a bluff at reading it. My European neighbour, also well known, tried to get off with a nod. 'I must see your ticket, please," the inspector said, and did see it. But a young Chinese in the front scat, who had ancessfully nodded away the conductor previous'y, gave him a n d, and the inspector accepted it. I said "You haven't seen that man's ticket " but he smiled and swung off. I have also noticed that whereas European children occupying seats have to Tay, Chinese children with grownups are rarely charged for. Perhaps I should express it, to be exact, frequently exempted, as a matter I have fre quently observed. On one occasion, standing because there was no seat, watched the collector collect from a Chinese man, woman, and two small children, occupying four seats. . . All Unassisted, I mean, by any teacher. I had to climb a convenient gate every time I wanted to mount, and sometimes when I fell off I had to walk far to find a suitable gate. But once on it is an indisputable fact that I could keep going, and even turn corners that were not too abrupt. I remember a neighbour coming along that -Saturday afternoon, on his bicycle. "Hello," he said. "I didn't know you could ride. I'm going to----(a. village three miles on). Come with me." As I was headed in that direction at the time, and too proud to confess that I was only just beginning, I tagged along behind him, Wells in some of his stories gets good fun out of early bicycling. AM DEEPLY offended by the OFFENDED . Daily Express of London, because of this sentence with which it begins one of its typically foolish potes:

" Readers of Mark Twain O. Henry and other Transatlantic authors wil be familiar with the gentle art of extracting money from "suckers" as practised in the United States."

It would have hurt me in any case to see Mark Twain referred to as a "Transatlautic" author, for he is universal. I do not ask anyone to agree with or accept my that Mark Twain the world's greatest writing man greater even than Shakespeare or Balzac. I know that some people will consider it extravagant. TRAINING TEACHERS

To the Editor of the " China Mell."

Sir -I did not see a China Mai reporter present at the Board of Education meeting on Wednesday last, but, as it is evident from the press reports and more especially from The programme included some new | your leading article in to-night's items, among them a 100 yards In issue that the main points of my positerport trial race which was won by tion lave not been made clear, you will, I am sure allow my space briefly to state my objections to the (66 secs). J. Johnstone was unable to training of teachers by means of attend the fete, or a fine tussle normal classes held at. Government

The material from which these teachers are chosen is of a very low standard. "They need not have passed the Matriculation or Junior Local Examinations, but in point of fact they have probably failed in the Matriculation Examination." (The description is that given by the Director of Education at the meeting though not reported.)

. It is clearly unfair that the younger generation "should be taught by these so called School masters, and no amount of " Practising teaching real classes under expert observation" at the Technical Institute for two or three evenings a week after a hard day's work at school can really improve them, for, as Mr. S. W. Tsu remarked at the same meeting, "They are teaching real classes all day long in the schools in which they are empluyed." This too was, I think, not reported.

(2). The Educational Authorities have got to decide the proportions of foreigners and Chinese to be employed in the Education Department in a few years time.

I saw an exactly similar problem faced, a me years ago it the Education Department in Egypt, and I know, how important the problem is. It is a crime for the Government to the winners and J. M. Jack scored for turn-out_educated men for whom there is no employment, and all I am During the proceedings an exhibit asking is to be given some kind of ion of high diving from the 22 feet figure as to the number of Chinese stage was given by a number of the teachers for which bille's can le found in ten or twenty years time I do not know of any better paid jobs to which they can ."desert." In fact some of our engineering graduates have taken to teaching breauss the teaching posts The Offertory at St. Andrew's are better paid. Can we, in Iwenty

I would gladly have forgiven you your obvious mistake of "Under-Mr. Noguichi, a partner of graduates" for Graduates "-but I pleading for, not our undergraduates. -And lastly as to facts. ...

(b) The University has a most expert Master of Methods, and I hope we may enjoy his services for many a long day to come, for he will be almost impossible to replace, mean of course my friend Mr. Alfred Morris, who thas been our Master of Method eyer a nee I can remember, and whose lessons are in themselves an inspiration.

speaking to her majesty's Chief Floral Artist ?"

"Oh I beg your pardon," said Leila, who had a great admiration for any painter, especially as she felt that she was such a failure as one, 'I was not properly awake and I am very sorry if I was rude."

"That is all right," replied the little man graciously, "You could hardly; be expected to know who I was, Office." though I have often seen you."

"What do you paint?" asked Leila feeling glad that she had been forgiven and anxious to make friends. "Why the flowers of course," he answered, "Did you think that they grew up with all those colours?" "Yes I did " admitted Leila, "Most of the flawers are coloured even when they are buds." "So they are," agreed the Chief

Floral Artist, "But because I know that you love them and try to paint them too in your strange human fashion I will tell you a secret. All flowers are white at first and I and my fellow artists paint them red, yellow blue and the many colours that you req."

"Surely it takes a long time," said Leila who was very surprised at hearing this.

. You remind me that I ought to be working now," went on the little man and he hurriedly climbed up the thick stem of a wild rose bush and seating himself on a bough took his box of paints, dabbed some red paint on to his palette and began to colour one of the white roses with Celicate streaks. "How beautiful!" cried Leila when after a moment he started painting another flower with light touches. "I wish that I could paint like that,"

"It is easy enough if you have the right kind of brush," said the Floral Artist as he went on with his work. "My brushes are made of the best camel's hair," Leila told him.

"Oh . camel's hair," he scornfully replied." Mine is made of the Fairy Queen's golden locks. DR: WELLINGTON KOO ASSUMES OFFICE. PERING, August 10th

When Dr. Wellington Koo assumed the office of Foreign Minister on Tuesday, in addressing the staff, he stated that he had been so long away from China that he was out of touch with Chinese affairs, he was out of touch with Chinese affairs, In the gathering which welcomed him at the Waichinepu, he saw many old controles, to whom he looked for co-operation, without which his efforts would be considerably impaired. When he returned to China, he had not thought of obtaining the Foreign Portfolio, his object was merely to take a heliday after his last seven years' continuous work abroad. He also wanted to study the present political conditions in China, in order to be better informed when he resumed his duties abroad.

. Sloux City. . The coal supply of the Armour and Cudahy packing plants is exhausted and both are installing oil systems. CLEVELAND. Warren S. Stone, President of the Engineers Union, said there would be more than a hundred walkouts all over Joliet if the conditions of railroad shops and yards were unchanged. He accused guards of abusive treatment of workers. W. G. Lee, President of Trainmen, endorsed ar. Stone's views. JOLIET ILLS. The railroud strike spread to the big Four Brotherhood at mid-night when 1,300 engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen of the Elgin Joliet and Eastern railroad walked out as a protest against troops in yards. No disorders are reported. The Line is the principal artery for freight trailie in and out of Chicago, probably the most important switching line in the whole country.

THIS YEARS' INDIAN TEA CROP.

LONDON, August 10th. The diminishing market for cheap tea has caused the Indian Tea Association to instruct its managers in India and Ceylon to refrain from coarse plucking in the present year's crop, aiming at quality. not quantity. Incidentally, this method is in accord with the policy of restricted production on which growers have agreed. Previous, eable messages stated that the growers had decided against coarse plucking in this year's crop, and that the supply would, therefore, not equal the demand.]

Corns Peel Off Painlessly

There is Only One Genuine Corn-Peeler - "Gets-It") There's only one happy way to get rid of any corn or callus, and that is to be able to post it off easily, paintensly, "Gets-It" is the only corn remody in the world that does it that way—effectively, thoroughly. Why get down on the floor, tie yourself up into a knot, and have to labor with troublesome planters, greaty sintments that rub off, sticky tape, and knives and scissors, when you can peel off your corn or calles in one complete piece, peacefully and surely, with magic, simple, casy "Gats-It?" It takes 2 or 2 seconds to apply "Gets-It"; you use 2 or 3 drope, and that is all. "Gets-It" does the rest! Get rid of that corn-pain at once, so that you can work and play without carn torture. Be sure to use "Gots-It." It never falls.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, moneyhack corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a triffe at all chemists and stores. M'I'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

CHINESE PAPER.

BAMBOO AND MULBERRY BARK USED.

In China two kinds of bamboo are used for the manufacture of paper; different purposes; from papering winthe Tzu Chu and the Chin Chu, says Finance and Commerce. These must be tender stems (usually of the same year's growth), and in no case must they be more than two years old. They are cut into lengths of eight white wax to give it a smooth polished. Chinese feet to suit the size of the surface. concrete pit in which they are sterped in bundles with cold water and species of mulberry tree, and this : heavily weighed with stones. After paper is much in use for the inner three months they are removed, opened up and well washed. They are then stacked in layers, each layer be ing well sprinkled with lime, and water containing two pounds of soda to every 100 pounds of lime. After two months the fibres are well separated. The lime is then washed out, and they are steamed for fifteen days with three pounds of soda to each 100 pounds of fibrous mas. which on removal from the steamer is on Aug. 13 for Honolplu and San throughly rinsed with cold water. It Francisco.

is then placed in a concrete pit and reduced to fine pulp with wooden. rakes. After this it is ready for conversion into paper. The paper produced is much finer, whiter, thinner, and more expensive than the ordinary straw paper.

There are various qualities used for dows to fine writing and note paper. Much of this paper is coloured on one side as well as dyed, and very often note and card paper is glossed with: .. A very tough and flexible paper is made from the inner bank of a
